The goal of the project is to improve equitable access to quality secondary education in poverty affected areas. On effectiveness: The early studies begun in 1940 (one in New Zealand, one in Canada, two in the United States) are faulty for various reasons, some given by a commenter.

No vet wants to admit it was all due to over-vaccination.